NATIONAL CATHOLIC EDUCATION COMMISSION

CHAIRMAN: HIS GRACE ARCHBISHOP BENNY MARIO TRAVAS

FROM THE DESK OF CEO

Dear Reader,

As we return from the Christmas and New Year season, I extend my warmest greetings to each of you; our students, families, staff, clergy, and partners. I hope this sacred season has been a time of rest, joy, and renewal, filled with the peace that Christ's birth brings to our hearts and homes.

Christmas reminds us that God is present among us—Emmanuel—calling us to live with hope, compassion, and love. As we begin this new year together, we are invited to carry that light forward into our classrooms, offices, playgrounds, and communities.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to our dedicated staff and leaders for their unwavering commitment to CBEs/DBE and schools. Your care for the academic, spiritual, and personal growth of every child is a true ministry. To our families, thank you for your trust and partnership. And to our students, welcome back, we look forward to seeing you grow in faith, knowledge, and service in the weeks ahead.

The start of a new year offers us an opportunity to reflect and to renew our purpose. Guided by our Catholic identity, we remain committed to forming young people who are not only skilled learners, but also people of integrity, kindness, and hope, ready to serve others and contribute positively to the world.

May this term be one of renewed energy, collaboration, and joy. Let us continue to support one another, grounded in prayer and united in our shared mission. I pray that God blesses our Bishops, our board members and collaborators, our schools and each member of NCEC and our CBEs/DBE with health, wisdom, and peace in the year ahead.

With every good wish and continued prayers,

Sincerely,

Asher Javaid

CULTIVATING DYNAMIC LEADERSHIP THROUGH DISC TRAINING

Effective leadership in education is about more than management; it is about understanding the diverse personalities that drive a school's success. Recognizing this, the National Catholic Education Commission (NCEC), in partnership with The International Leadership Training Institute, recently hosted a transformative two-day training session focused on the DISC Personality Profiling Test.

On October 23rd and 24th, 2025, thirty school principals and administrative leaders from CBE-Lahore and the NCEC Secretariat gathered to delve into the complexities of human behavior. The session moved beyond theory, engaging participants in interactive discussions and hands-on activities centered on the four DISC pillars: Dominance, Influence, Steadiness, and Compliance.

The feedback from participants was resoundingly positive. Many noted that the self-awareness gained during the workshop would immediately change how they approach staff meetings and one-on-one mentorship. "This training provided the mirror we needed to see our own leadership styles clearly," shared one participant.

NCEC remains committed to this path of continuous professional development. By equipping our leaders with modern psychological tools like DISC, we are ensuring that our schools are led by individuals who are not only academically proficient but also emotionally intelligent and interpersonally skilled.

EMPOWERING NCEC MASTER TRAINERS IN ISLAMABAD

In a strategic move to standardize and elevate educational delivery across Pakistan, the National Catholic Education Commission (NCEC) recently concluded a high-intensity, three-day training session for Master Trainers. Held in Islamabad from December 1st to 3rd, 2025, the program was conducted in collaboration with The International Leadership Training Institute (TILTI).

The initiative brought together 20 selected Master Trainers from various dioceses, focusing on the shift from traditional instruction to modern, learner-centered facilitation.

The workshop was designed to ensure that quality and consistency are maintained across all regional training programs. Key focus areas included:

- Mastering presentation skills and interactive techniques to engage diverse learning groups.
- Introducing innovative instructional strategies and contemporary digital resources.
- Equipping trainers with the tools to effectively replicate and deliver these sessions in their respective regions.

The sessions were characterized by active involvement and practical simulations, providing the participants with a "tool-kit" for nationwide leadership and capacity building. By investing in this core group of 20 experts,

NCEC is creating a sustainable ripple effect that will eventually benefit thousands of students and teachers across the country.

We extend our sincere gratitude to TILTI and our dedicated Master Trainers for their commitment to academic excellence and professional growth.

HONORING EXCELLENCE NCEC MASTER TRAINER'S AWARD CEREMONY

On December 3, 2025, the National Catholic Education Commission (NCEC) held a special ceremony to honor the driving forces behind our recent successes. In a heartfelt gesture of appreciation, commemorative shields were presented to our dedicated Master Trainers and the Core Committee members.

These awards serve as a testament to their unwavering commitment, tireless hard work, and the visionary leadership they brought to the Leadership Program. Their collective efforts were instrumental in ensuring the program was not only effective but truly transformative for all participants.

We extend our deepest gratitude to these exceptional individuals for setting a benchmark of excellence and for their continued devotion to the NCEC mission.

NCEC CONDUCTS CENTRALISED EXAMINATIONS FOR CLASS IX

This massive initiative brought together 397 ambitious students from three key dioceses: CBE Lahore (14 schools), CBE Faisalabad (3 schools), and CBE Multan (3 schools). By unifying these institutions under a single assessment umbrella, the NCEC has reinforced its commitment to academic standardization and collective growth.

A Strategic Roadmap The Centralised Examination is not merely an assessment; it is a diagnostic tool crafted to empower both students and educators. The initiative focused on five pillars of academic success:

- Gauging how prepared students truly are for their final board hurdles.
- Ensuring that a student in Multan is held to the same high academic standards as a student in Lahore.
- Using data to pinpoint exactly where students need more support before it's too late.
- Providing educators with the "remedial roadmap" needed to focus their revision sessions effectively.
- Familiarizing students with a formal examination environment to replace anxiety with confidence.

The smooth execution of these exams is a testament to the seamless collaboration between the diocesan offices, school administrations, and our dedicated teaching faculty. The result is a clearer picture of our academic landscape and a stronger foundation for our students.

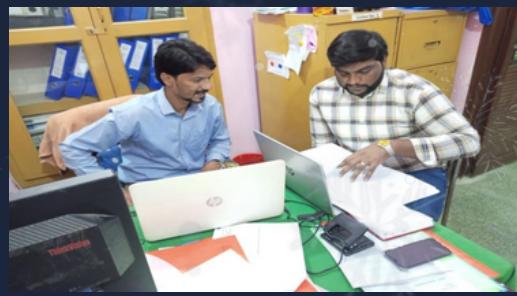

As these 397 students move closer to their final board exams, they do so with a clearer understanding of their strengths and a focused plan for improvement. The NCEC extends its deepest appreciation to everyone involved in making this vital academic milestone a resounding success.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING ON CHILD PROTECTION POLICY AT CBE-HYDERABAD

A pivotal moment in safeguarding education unfolded at CBE-Hyderabad on November 15, 2025, as 15 school principals gathered for a focused training on the Child Protection Policy, at St. Bonaventure's High School, City Campus - Hyderabad.

The session was led by Mr. Asher Javaid, CEO of the National Catholic Education Commission, whose insights set a clear, proactive tone for the day. In a candid, collaborative atmosphere, participants explored the foundations of child protection, from rigorous safeguarding policies and codes of conduct to safe recruitment, confidential reporting, and the meticulous handling of concerns. The principals left with a shared sense of responsibility and concrete action plans tailored to their schools, ready to align local practices with national guidelines.

The day concluded with each principal drafting individualized steps to publish and enforce child protection policies within their schools. This initiative marks a significant stride in our collective commitment to nurturing safe, secure educational spaces for all students.
